

RABBIT

I'm afraid I'm fresh out of honey, Pooh.

POOH

I was afraid you'd say that.

RABBIT

Let's see this puzzle of yours.

(reading the note)

Oh, my goodness. Oh, my good goodness.

POOH

So it's a good kind of puzzle? Not the kind where you've lost a piece and can't find it for the longest time?

RABBIT

What are you talking about, Pooh! This is horrible! This note is simply terrifying!

PIGLET

What does it say?

RABBIT

I don't know.

POOH

Then why is it terrifying?

RABBIT

Because... because... I'll let Owl explain to you why it's terrifying!

OWL

(reading the note)

Hrrmph.

POOH

Excuse me, Owl, but is that a good noise or a bad noise?

OWL

It's an "I'm thinking" kind of noise, Pooh.

POOH

Oh. Say, Owl, while you're thinking, do you happen to have any honey?

OWL

Honey? Never touch the stuff. It clogs the arteries and slows the mental processes.

POOH

But it tastes so good, Owl.

RABBIT

Hush up and let Owl think, Pooh.

OWL

(reading the note)

"Gone out Backson. Bisy Backson. Signed, Christopher Robin."

(to others)

Do you know what this means?

(#9 THE BACKSON SONG.)

PIGLET

That's why we came to you, Owl.

RABBIT

I tried to explain to them why it was terrifying.

POOH

What does the note mean, Owl?

OWL

This note means... that Christopher Robin has been captured by a creature called the Backson!

POOH, PIGLET, RABBIT

Oh!

RABBIT

I knew it! Didn't I tell you it was terrifying, Pooh? Didn't I tell you?

POOH

But what's a Backson, Owl?
